

KOORIE WOMEN MEAN BUSINESS

presents the

VICTORIAN ABORIGINAL WOMEN'S AWARDS 2002

"To acknowledge and celebrate the positive contribution and dedication of women to the Aboriginal Community life"

Koorie Women Mean Business Incorporated announces The Victorian Aboriginal Women's Awards, which aims to publicly acknowledge the contribution of Victorian Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander women who have dedicated their time and work to their communities.

The unpinning criteria for nomination to a category will be that the nominee has through their own actions made a positive contribution to enhance the position of Indigenous people.

If you know a woman who fits the description that falls into any one of the following

- Women in Art/Performing Arts
- Women in Education
- Women in Business
- Women in Health
- Women in Sport
- Women in CDEP
- Women in Culture
- Young Women's Encouragement Award
- Wattle Award – a posthumous award for past achievers

Please fill out a nomination form now.

This is an event that will bring together both Indigenous and Non-indigenous women to recognise the achievements of Victorian Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders in a celebratory luncheon.

Nominations close at 4:00pm on Wednesday 30th October 2002.

To nominate an extraordinary woman in community you will need to complete a nomination form and mail it to:

Victorian Aboriginal Womens Awards
C/- Victorian Womens Trust
387 Little Bourke Street, Melbourne VIC 3000
